

Malcolm is Associate Pro-Vice Chancellor for Research and Impact in the Faculty of Health and Life Sciences at the University of Liverpool. Malcolm has an extensive research interest in ageing and frailty and has published over 200 original scientific papers. He was previously Head of the Institute of Ageing and Chronic Disease and Director of the MRC-Arthritis Research UK Centre for Integrated Research into Musculoskeletal Ageing (CIMA). He has substantial research links with the University of Michigan and Oklahoma Medical Research Foundation funded through a joint program-project grant from the US National Institute on Aging (NIH).